

FIRST OF POTATO OUTPUT SHIPPED

Plain City Yields Initial Carload of 1000 Expected This Season

The first of the thousand car output of the early potato crop in the Ogden district was shipped from Plain City this week, farmers disposing of their product at $5 per hundredweight.

The yield is exceptional for this time of the year, it is said, and growers feel that they will be recompensed to a certain extent for the losses sustained through drought last season. The potatoes are reported to be of good variety and are in demand at various markets of the United States.

The early potato industry is fast assuming importance in this section of the country and possibly will assume a position of importance which will make Utah rival Idaho as a potato producing state, local growers believe.

They are scientifically studying the growing of potatoes and are looking up the economic side of the potato crops. The selection of seed and treatment, together with obtaining information on the marketing of the crop, is causing the potato growing industry to assume worthwhile proportions.

DAIRY SURVEY IS MADE HERE

Ben Eldredge of U. A. C. and John Felt, Milk Inspector, Tour County

Ben R. Eldredge, dairy specialist of the Agricultural college and for the United States department of agriculture, was in Ogden yesterday arranging for records on milk production, according to information from the Weber County farm bureau.

Mr. Eldredge, accompanied by John Felt, dairy committee member for the Weber County Farm bureau and city dairy inspector, went to Marriott, Slaterville, Farr West, Harrisville, North Ogden, Eden, and Huntsville to confer with dairymen who have been selected by the County Dairy committee to do the work.

The cost of production on almost every Weber county agricultural industry has been determined and most of the farmers in the county are basing their operations on the figures compiled.

Because the cost of the dairy farmer has not been compiled, dairy farmers are at a loss to know whether or not the industry which he has been engaged in is yielding returns.

With the completion of the work by the co-operators, it is expected that dairy farmers will know definitely where they stand in regards to the returns which their work has been bringing them.

MAY LIMIT USE OF SACCHARINE

State Food Commission Taking Up This Question, Says Ogden Deputy

Saccharine, a product of coal tar and having no food value, said to be hundreds of times sweeter than sugar, is being used instead of sugar in the manufacture of soda waters, according to George Shorten, deputy state food inspector, who was at a meeting at Salt Lake recently which was attended by Walter M. Boyden, state chemist, and dairy commissioner, Herman Harms, state chemist, and Charles Cottrill of Salt Lake.

Use of saccharine in this way is a direct violation of state laws, according to Mr. Shorten. One hundred samples of various brands of soda water have been turned over to State Chemist Herman Harms from various parts of the state and all have been tested. Of the entire number eight samples were said to contain saccharine.

A thorough canvass of Salt Lake, Ogden, Provo, Logan and other plants operated by soda concerns will be inspected, according to Mr. Shorten, during the present summer. Whether or not steps will be taken to prosecute those using the sweetener product will be taken will be discussed at a meeting of the state food commission on July 29.

High Court Decides in Mining Action

According to a decision of the supreme court in the case of the Western Securities company versus the Silver King Consolidated Mining company, and Simon Spiro, with John Hargreave, 923 Kearns, E. Eccles, Ogden, defendants, finding of fact and conclusions of law and judgment must be vacated and reversed. The high court also ordered that the case be dismissed against Spiro. The decision was written by Justice J. E. Frick.

Clark was indebted to the Silver King Consolidated Mining company in the sum of $50,000, for which he gave four notes and delivered 29,925 shares of capital stock in the company as security. In default of the payment of these notes, the company sold the stock at $1.40 a share. This sale was declared invalid by the district court but the supreme court reverses this decision, and the sale will be declared valid when the decree of the supreme court is carried out by the lower court.
